NUMBER 96.

RETURNS TO ENGLAND

Whitaker Wright, the Great Promoter, Waives Extradition.

HE IS ARRAIGNED AT NEW YORK.

Leading Members of the British Royal Family Said to Be
Mixed Up in the Prisoner's Transactions.

New York, March 16. — Whitaker Wright, arrested here at the request of the London police, was taken to the Federal building and arraigned before Commissioner Alexander. Miss Florence Brown, said to be his niece, who arrived with him, and who disappeared from the Albemarle hotel later in the day, went to the office of United States Marshal Henkel with her counsel. She was not a prisoner.

Wright made a statement in which he said: "I shall waive all extradition formalities to go back to England as soon as the government matures all arrangements. This story about the amount of money lost is all bosh. The amount lost altogether did not exceed $400,000."

"The attorney general for the crown told me himself that I had a clean bill of health, and was not culpable in any way. Any way, I am an Englishman by birth; I am an American citizen. I have three children living with my wife in England, and three are buried in Philadelphia. Miss Browne is my niece and is my sister's child. She came here to visit friends in Philadelphia. I came here to examine mining properties."

Wright was arraigned before United States Commissioner Alexander, and the hearing was adjourned until Wednesday.

The companies that went down in the crash that it is charged Wright caused were capitalized at $110,000,000. He had upon his list many titled noblemen of England. Much American money was lost in the failure of the Wright companies. Previous to the crash the promoter lived on a magnificent English estate in Surrey, Lea Park. For several years he was the most prominent figure in the British financial world. When the failure was announced Wright fled to the continent, where he remained under cover. Feb. 25 he was traced to Havre, whence he embarked on the steamer Lorraine for New York. Miss F. Browne, a good looking young woman, who claimed to be a niece of the promoter, accompanied him across the sea.

WRIGHT'S TRANSACTIONS.

Members of the English Royal Family
Said to Be Involved.

London, March 16. — John Flower, chairman of the shareholders' committee, which instigated the prosecution of Whitaker Wright, the director of the London and Globe Finance corporation, who was arrested on his arrival at New York from France, says: "I see Wright is quoted as saying he had a powerful protector in an exalted quarter. That statement is not new to us. It is the keynote of the whole case. Prior to the failure of the London and Globe, certain persons maintain Wright had in his possession letters from leading members of the English royal family showing they were mixed up in his transactions. We have no documentary proof of this. Wright himself is probably the only man in the world who could prove it. Within a few weeks the chief issue in the Wright case will be the question of the complicity or otherwise of the most exalted personages in the empire in Wright's financial and other schemes. His genuine prosecution will become an extremely delicate matter. I quite sympathize with Wright when he says the failure of the London and Globe was due to the treachery of others. There is, no doubt of that. But it must be remembered that for three months prior to the failure, which Wright says was directly due to treachery, the London and Globe had not a cent in its locker, yet it was doing over £500,000 in speculation at every settlement. The government's decision that the directors as a body could not be proceeded against, does not prevent Wright, as the prime factor in the rotten conditions which existed before the failure, being made to take the responsibility."

Attorney General Finlay, in the house of commons, said the crown would pay the cost of the extradition of Wright, and the payment by the crown of the whole expenses of the proceedings would be considered. His prosecution, however, would be left in the hands of the official receiver of the London and Globe corporation.

Pueblo, March 16. — Charles E. Bishop, electrician, died from a bullet wound received in Lousteau's cafe at the hands of a masked robber, who also shot and killed Dr. J. H. Turner.

BOILER BLEW OUT.

Three Men Fatally Hurt and an Iron Plant Partially Wrecked.

Toledo, March 16. — In a boiler explosion, which wrecked a large portion of the East Toledo mills of the Republic Iron and Steel company, one man was killed and two others burned so badly that they may die. The dead: John Thompson, water tender, aged 41, unmarried, formerly of Findlay, O. The injured: Melvill Updegraff, 39, night engineer, married, burned from head to foot and crushed by falling bricks; Henry Fust, 56, watchman, burned about head and face and crushed by bricks. It will never be known how the accident occurred, as the dead man was the only one near the boiler. The top of the boiler, weighing a ton, was blown through the air for half a mile, hurling just over the tops of 20 houses, and finally gouging a hole fully 20 feet deep in the ground. Iron flues by the dozen were driven deep into the earth. One entire end of the mill was blown out, causing a property damage of $40,000. It will take a month to repair the plant.

LIBERATION OF CHINA.

Secret Agents Commence the Crusade.
World-Wide Movement.

New York, March 16. — Secret agents of Chinese progress in this city have received private information from San Francisco that the crusade for the liberation of China is to begin at once. America is to be the headquarters of Kang Yu Wai, the young reformer and ex-member of the Tsung Yamen, who seeks, through his society, the Bow Wong Wui (Society for the Protection of the Emperor), to make Kwang Hsu emperor in fact, as well as in name. Kang Yu Wai, it is rumored, is now on the Pacific, bound for this country, and after establishing the main office of his propaganda here, will tour the world, organizing branches in the various capitals of Europe, made up of the educated and influential Chinamen of the world.

Deed of a Band of Masked Men.

Wapakoneta, O., March 16. — The home of Mrs. Jacob Relschelderfer, an aged and wealthy widow, was the scene of a daring robbery, 14 armed and masked men securing money and notes to the value of $8,000. With Mrs. Relschelderfer are living her granddaughter, Blanche, aged 12; George James and his wife and their son, Joseph James, a young man. These the desperadoes bound hand and foot after clubbing the men into submission. At the point of a shotgun the granddaughter was compelled to reveal the place where the valuables were found. Jewelry and silverware also were taken. The thieves divided the swag in the cellar of the house, devoured a lunch and quietly departed.

Basketball Injurious to Girls.

Boston, March 16. — Miss Lucie Eaton Hill, director of physical training at Wellesley college, contends that the prevailing fad for basketball is working incalculable harm among girls, principally by reason of the lack of supervision by older persons, who could utter a note of warning on occasion and save lifelong suffering. Girls come to college, she asserts, who have joints askew, and bearing injuries as the result of overexertion at basketball. She urged that there was too much publicity, and too much competition for points or "records," engendering a spirit altogether at variance with what we are accustomed to call a womanly character.

Chamberlain in Commons.

London, March 16. — Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's re-entry into the house of commons was signaled by an unusually cordial reception from the Conservatives and Unionists, while the Liberals and Nationalists maintained a significant silence. Mr. Chamberlain looked much worn, but was obviously in the best of spirits as he rose to inform a questioner that he was afraid it would be difficult to collect and publish all his South African speeches. He was ashamed to say he had made about 70, and he had had no time to read them, much less collect them.

Application For Receiver.

Trenton, March 16. — An order was filed in the court of chancery for cause to be shown in Jersey City on Monday next why a receiver should not be appointed for the Safety Bottle and Ink company. The application for a receiver was made by August Belmont and Charles R. Flint, stockholders and creditors of the concern. The company was engaged in the manufacture of bottles and ink, and was incorporated in 1895 with an authorized capital of $250,000.

Washington, March 16. — Chief Justice Fuller administered the oath to Henry M. Hoyt, the new solicitor general of the Department of Justice; to the retiring solicitor general, J. K. Richards as United States circuit judge for the Sixth circuit, and to Judge Vanvort as United States judge of the Eighth circuit.

SURE OF RATIFICATION

Is the Panama Canal Treaty, Say the Democratic Senators.

LATTER TAKE ACTION AT A CAUCUS.

Resolved to Stand Together in Support of Two Important Amendments—Proceedings of the Senate.

Washington, March 16. — The Democratic senators at their caucus resolved to stand together in the senate in support of two amendments to the Panama canal treaty. One of these provides for the modification of the twenty-third article of the treaty, so as to insure the control of the canal zone by the United States, and the other enlarges the provision in the fourth article of the treaty, which is a disavowal of any intention on the part of the United States "to increase its territory at the expense of Colombia or the sister republics in Central or South America," so as to include Mexico.

All the Democratic senators except Messrs. Dubois, Culberson, Morgan, McLaurin, Clarke (Ark.) and Gibson were present. It is the understanding that all the Democrats will support the two amendments agreed upon, but that after they are acted upon individuals shall be at liberty to vote for or against the treaty, as they may elect. It is also the understanding that some of the Democratic senators will support some of Senator Morgan's individual amendments, but that they will do so as individual senators, and not as members of the Democratic caucus. Democratic senators who participated in the caucus say that whether amended or not the treaty is sure of ratification.

Amendments Killed.

Washington, March 16. — Before the senate went into executive session Levi Ankeny of Washington was escorted to the desk by Mr. Foster, his colleague, and sworn in. No legislative business of any kind was transacted in the open session.

Senator Pettus offered the first amendment to the treaty. It provided that it should not go into effect until approved by congress, and was voted down by a large majority.

A number of amendments offered by Mr. Morgan were passed upon adversely without rollcalls. Among them was one declaring that the treaty should not invalidate the Spooner act, and another provided for the submission of the treaty to the French government.

Nationalists Suspected.

Manila, March 16. — General Allen, chief of the Philippine constabulary has written to President Gomez of the Nationalist party, charging that the party is assisting the ladrones in Rizal and Bulacan provinces, and requesting Gomez to produce the records of the organization and explain the collection and use of the dues. Gomez replied that the party was not guilty. He admitted that individual members assisted the ladrones, but said the party expelled them for so doing. General Allen placed evidence in the hands of the prosecuting attorney, and it is expected that the government will prosecute a number of the Nationalists.

Imported Men Backed Out.

Pittsburg, March 16. — After waiting several weeks on the striking structural iron workers to resume work, the American Bridge company decided last week to import men to take the places of the strikers, and 38 men reached here from Louisville. They were met at the station by a force of detectives and escorted to the company's offices, but after learning the situation they refused to work and later joined the strikers at their headquarters. The bridge company is determined to resume operations, and declared that more men will be imported at once.

Fatal Fray.

Raleigh, N. C., March 16. — Dr. Julian Baker, a physician of Tarboro, N. C., shot and perhaps fatally wounded Dr. H. T. Bass of that place. It is said the shooting dates back to a former difficulty resulting from a criticism said to have been made by Dr. Bass concerning the management of a sanitarium over which Dr. Baker presides. An encounter took place last summer between the men. Both are prominent throughout the state. Dr. Baker has been placed under custody.

Washington, March 16. — The district supreme court dismissed the petition of Miss Rebecca J. Taylor for a mandamus to compel the secretary of war to restore her to a clerical position in the war department. She gave notice of appeal to the court of appeals. She was dismissed for published criticisms of the administration's Philippine policy.

FARMING, A BUSINESS

And Business Methods Should Rule, if You
Wish to Succeed at It.

[Exchange.]

This is a matter that is far too little realized by those engaged in the business, and the following thoughts by Dr. Jenkins, of the Connecticut experiment station, may well be studied diligently by all who care to improve their methods and add to their success. He says:

"Business methods are results of educated and alert common sense applied to business. They are the ways in which successful business of any kind is managed. It is common to think or speak of farming as something quite distinct from business. We often hear expressions like this: 'One son stayed on the farm, the other went into business,' as if the two things were quite distinct. Now, 'staying on the farm' is one thing, but successful farming at the present day is a wholly different thing, and farming is business."

"Farming is just as real a business as making cotton cloth or selling steel. The underlying principles are alike, the general methods are alike, the causes of success or failure are the same, whether we produce and sell peaches or armor plate. The same things which take most attention in any factory business are exactly the things needed for successful farming. These are knowledge of what the market wants, and when it wants it; running machinery or other productive force at its fullest capacity, whenever it can be done at any profit; fixing exactly the cost of production; buying stock at the lowest rates, by paying cash when possible, by taking advantage of any competition, and by buying in as large quantity as is practicable; use of all waste of by-products, and selling products where there is most demand and least supply."

"These are just the things which the business farmer, as distinguished from the mere tiller of the soil, has to study and has to determine in order to make a success. The man who masters these things is, I believe, as likely to succeed in farming to-day as in other business; the one who will not, or who cannot master them is bound, sooner or later, to fail. Long ago we were working unexhausted soils, we had a constantly widening market and little or no competition."

BANK CLOSED

By Direction of the Comptroller of the Currency.

Washington, March 16. — The First National Bank of Florida, at Jacksonville, Fla., was closed by direction of the comptroller of the currency upon the report of an examination made by National Bank Examiner Charles A. Hanna, which showed the bank to be insolvent. The failure of the bank, it is said at the treasury department, was due to losses, which absorbed the entire capital and surplus, leaving a deficiency in assets which are of a slow character and of poor grade, consisting largely of phosphate and lumber mill machinery, insurance policies, real estate, etc. The bank has liabilities of $375,182.

KNAPP HAS A HEARING

Self-Confessed Murderer Before the Mayor of Hamilton, Ohio.

HELD TO GRAND JURY WITHOUT BAIL.

Supreme Court Quashes the Writ of Habeas Corpus in the Celebrated
Ellis Glenn Case
From West Virginia.

Hamilton, O., March 16. — Alfred Knapp was called before Mayor Bosch for his preliminary trial. Knapp was brought over from jail handcuffed. He was calm as usual. His lawyers, Messrs. Darby and Thomas of Cincinnati, went into consultation with Mayor Bosch and the prisoner in the mayor's private office.

At the conclusion of the conference it was announced that Knapp would waive examination, but would stand a hearing. Charles Goddard, uncle of Hannah Goddard Knapp, was the first witness. He was examined by Prosecutor Gard and Lawyer Darby. Goddard testified that Knapp and his wife were at his (Goddard's) house from 7:30 to 9 o'clock on the night of Dec. 21. They had previously been to the depot to see a friend off. They went home, and he never saw Hannah Knapp again until he identified her corpse at New Albany, Ind. Chief Kuemmerling recited the whole story of Knapp's arrest and confession and the identification of the corpse.

Knapp was held to answer to the grand jury without bail, and was returned to jail.

Glenn Woman Must Stand Trial.

Washington, March 16. — The supreme court of the United States quashed the writ of habeas corpus granted by Judge Jackson of the Northern district of West Virginia in the case of Ellis Glenn, alias E. B. Glenn, and remanded the case for trial. This is the "man-woman" case, which has attracted considerable attention in West Virginia. The woman for years masqueraded as a man under the name of Ellis Glenn. She was tried for forgery in Wood county, W. Va., at the May term of court, 1901, and the jury disagreed. She claimed at that time that she was the sister of "Ellis Glenn." At the fall term of court when she came up for trial she claimed that she was being twice placed in jeopardy for the same offense, and sued out a writ of habeas corpus before Judge Jackson. The writ was granted.

Men Will Vote to Strike.

New York, March 16. — According to employees of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company in this city the vote of the men will show a large majority to be in favor of a strike if concessions can not be secured from the company. When asked about the standing the committee of citizens would have if they should endeavor to bring about a settlement, an official of the railroad company said: "The railroad has stated its position through its president, and there is nothing more to add at the present time." J. P. Morgan and other members of the board of directors of the company were in conference with President Hall. It was said there was nothing to give out.

South America and Monroe Doctrine.

Valparaiso, March 16. — Herald publishes a remarkable article about the Monroe doctrine, in which it says: "South America ought to quietly notify the United States that she does not seek the Monroe doctrine's protection, but her own. She ought also to notify Europe. We can not decorously continue to be regarded as Turks. That is to say, we are not outside the international law practiced by the greater powers among themselves." The writer ends by saying: "Paramount above everything is our duty to place ourselves in a worthy position before the world. South America ought to renounce the invisible benefits of the so-called doctrine."

Royal Funeral.

Honolulu, March 16. — The funeral of the late Prince Albert Kaniaka was conducted with royal pomp. The hearse was drawn by over 100 men, and in the cortege were many prominent personages, including the governor's staff and civil and military officials. The remains were given a military escort to the former throne room in the Capital building, where most impressive services were rendered. The prince was the last representative of the Kamehameha dynasty, and his death is deeply deplored by the native population.

Cincinnati, March 16. — By the explosion of a gasoline stove at the home of George Faken, William Faken, 5, was fatally burned. Mrs. Faken and her sister, Mrs. Plaggo, were seriously injured. Officer Bunker in attempting to extinguish the flames was painfully injured.

The coal dealers of Chicago, indicted for conspiring to form a trust to control prices of fuel, have been acquitted because Illinois has no law covering the case. The evidence was very convincing as to their having formed such a conspiracy, and that it was in restraint of trade, and it remains now to be seen what the Federal authorities will do to punish them.

Captain Calhoun's fee of $71,999 for collecting Kentucky's war claim from Uncle Sam has been referred to Attorney General Pratt. There are dozens of men in every town in Kentucky who could have "collected" this claim just as well and just as promptly as Captain Calhoun did, and who would have been glad to do so for a fee of $5,000—or even less.—Public Ledger.

Captain Calhoun's compensation for collecting this war claim is fixed by law, and he will not be paid any more than that law allows him. Of course, now that he has collected and turned over the money there are a lot of envious mortals in every town who will talk about what they would have been willing to do, but it's doubtful, extremely doubtful, whether one in a thousand of 'em even knew that such a claim existed. It seems no one knows anything about it until Gov. Beckham and Captain Calhoun started after it. The State has been lucky indeed to collect the claim at so small a cost. It is much less than other States paid for such work. Had some lawyers been employed, they would not have been satisfied with less than $200,000 or $300,000, and if the Legislature had not wisely fixed the compensation beforehand, Captain Calhoun could have gone into the courts and recovered far more than he will now receive.

ECONOMY Is What the Times Demand!

Money saved is the easiest money made. You may wear cheap clothing and be respectable, but you can't eat impure and unwholesome food and be healthy for any length of time. So when it comes to buying supplies for your table it is economy to buy the best. My annual CUT PRICE sale for CASIL is now on, and when I say cash price that is what it is.

I am now rounding up my twenty-third year in Maysville. During that entire time I have worked hard and incessantly to build a trade for first-class goods and to establish and hold a reputation for honorable and fair dealing. My success in business has proved to me that I have not worked in vain. My business has steadily increased from the beginning. I intend to continue in the same old way. For your very liberal support you have my most sincere thanks, and I most respectfully ask for a continuance of same. I want country people when in our city to visit my store and make it their headquarters. You are always welcome.

Remember, I run two delivery wagons, and it is always a pleasure to deliver goods.

A NATIVE OF MASON.

Death of William Conway, a Noted Breeder and Trainer of Horses.

A dispatch from Hagerstown, Ind., Monday announced the death of William Conway, aged eighty-seven. Mr. Conway was a native of this county, but moved to Indiana while a boy, locating near Hagerstown where for more than sixty years he operated a large horse-breeding farm. He was one of the first men to race a horse to a sulky. As a driver of his own horses he had become famous. He introduced a fine strain of horses known as the "Joe Bowers."

Conway was one of the wealthiest citizens of Hagerstown, and owned numerous farms in Indiana. His horse farm comprised almost 1,000 acres in rich bottom lands. In 1839 he married Miss Eliza Robertson, and their wedded life continued for sixty-one years. Four children survive. They are Mrs. Simon Powell, of Newcastle; Mrs. Bigelow Jordan, of Ft. Scott, Kan.; Mrs. Isaac Brumback, of Hagerstown, and Marcus Conway, of Moorland, Ind.

L. Y. Browning has sold to Edward Walton about forty-five acres, part of the John Dye farm, in Mason and Fleming counties for $3,638. Mr. Browning has also sold to Wm. J. Tally, about fifty-six and one-half acres, part of the same farm, for $2,828.44.

"The Fences That Fence"

Are the fences that have been sought for many years. People who needed fences have been looking for them. People who make fences have been trying to solve the problem. There has been a gradual evolution from the rail fence and the rock wall, in which every form of wood and metal and their combinations have been tried and found wanting in some essential feature until the manufacturers produced the

MOST POPULAR INNOVATION
In Governmental Service the Rural Free
Delivery of Mail is Now Pronounced.

[Southern Farm Magazine of Baltimore.]
If one were called upon to name the most popular innovation in governmental service during the two past decades, looking to the greatest good to the greatest number and increasing the intelligence of its citizenship, such a one would unhesitatingly name the establishment of the rural free delivery system. It is probably the most satisfactory service for the great mass of country people that has ever been undertaken by the government. It gives them many of the conveniences of city life without the extra cost of living. It saves much waste of time in going to and from the postoffice. It encourages the habit of letterwriting and increases at a manifold ratio the circulation of newspapers and magazines. The farmers are now able to keep informed in respect to the markets and the general movements in the political and financial world. Indeed, the establishment of this system, in connection with the telephone, may be accounted among the greatest of the educational machinery of the country, reaching classes of people too old or too busy to attend schools. This system makes country life an ideal one.

It Will be Given Wednesday Evening, March 25th.

In order to get all the business men of Maysville together for an exchange of views and suggestions for the improvement of the city, it was decided to give a banquet at the Central Hotel Wednesday evening, March 25th. All members of the board and all other business men of the city are invited, but each person who attends will be expected to pay his share of the expenses.

Higher Prices For Wool.

[Exchange.]
All indications point to higher prices for wool. The information is that this year's clip in Australia will be short by 150,000 bales. It seems also that wool will be greatly deficient of the usual supply in every other part of the world except in South America. In view of these conditions abroad, the Live Stock World in commenting on the situation in this country says: "Already buyers are negotiating for the growing crop on the sheep's back. Western wool growers have been numerous asked to put a price on their 1903 clip. No sales have been consummated, but the fact that inquiries regarding prices have been freely made at this season of the year is extraordinary. There has been free buying of wool on the sheep's back in recent years, but we do not recall that the people who have pursued this policy have begun to plan their operations so far ahead."

A WOMAN'S BACK.

The Aches and Pains Will Disappear if the Advice of This Maysville Citizen is Followed.

A woman's back has many aches and pains.

Most times 'tis the kidneys' fault. Backache is really kidney ache; That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it. Many Maysville women know this. Read what one has to say about it:

Mrs. John E. Burns, of West End near Pogue, says: "I am greatly pleased with the benefit I received from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills which I procured at J. Jas. Wood & Son's drug store, corner of West Second and Market streets. Use proved them to be the best kidney remedy that I know of. I have heard a number of persons speak of the great relief obtained from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
